TURIN CONFIRMED AS HOST OF NITTO ATP FINALS THROUGH 2027

LONDON – The ATP and FITP have today announced that the Nitto ATP Finals will be held in Turin through 2027. The extension follows five successful editions of the event in Turin, with a sixth set to take place in November 2026, building on one of the ATP’s most successful host city partnerships.

First held in Turin in 2021, the Nitto ATP Finals has experienced standout success both on and off the court. The 2025 edition attracted a record-breaking 229,879 spectators, a nine per cent increase on the previous year. Seven million viewers tuned in to watch the final, the most watched tennis match in Italian TV history. Globally, the event drew 218 million video views across ATP’s social channels, a 67 per cent increase on 2024.

Prize money also reached an all-time high of $15.5 million, with Jannik Sinner earning $5.07 million after winning the title undefeated, the largest payout in the tournament’s history.

The 2026 edition will introduce a series of tournament upgrades designed to enhance the fan, player and partner experience. A new open-view practice court in the Fan Village will bring fans closer to the players as they prepare for matches, while the seating capacity inside the Inalpi Arena will increase to more than 13,500. Four new courtside terraces and enhanced hospitality areas within the arena will offer a more exclusive experience for partners and guests.

With an additional year of collaboration, ATP and FITP will continue to drive progress, reinforcing the event’s position as one of the world's leading annual sporting events and the pinnacle of the ATP Tour season.
